Certification of members is important as we strive to develop professionalism and acceptance within our industry. It can also be a career-building asset for a market manager. Below is the process to become a CPMM.

Certified Produce Market Manager (CPMM) Certification Program Requirements:

Criteria	Minimum Requirements

If the criteria have not been met, a letter to the applicant will be sent detailing the reasons for denial, along with any actions that must be taken to receive certification.

GET CERTIFIED

NAPMM Certification Program

A point system has been established for the areas of preparation for certification. Under this system, if one area of the criteria falls short of providing the necessary points, another area may compensate. Some criteria require minimum standards, which may not be offset. These areas include membership and convention attendance.

Realizing that all market professionals do not have the same experiences, responsibilities, or job descriptions, and that we are a diverse group of leaders, the criteria below provides a comprehensive outline of the certification requirements.

Point System: There are 5 areas. Each area is limited to a total of 12 points, with a total of 40 points needed for certification.

Employment Experience	3 Years = 5 Points 1 Point for each additional year as a market professional or related management work experience
Education	High School/GED = 3 Points College Degree = 3 Points 1 Point for each additional year of schooling
Membership	3 Years = 3 Points 1 Point for each additional year
Leadership & Industry Engagement	3 Presentations or Panel Moderator = 5 Points 1 Point for each additional presentation or panel moderator (Presentation or Panel moderator can be at an NAPMM function and/or other industry related organization that relates to industrial and retail real estate, government policy and advocacy, and other market related organizations. Applicants may be asked to supply supporting documentation.) NAPMM Board Member (1 term) = 5 Points 1 Point for each additional board term NAPMM Committee Member (1 term) = 2 Points 1 Point for each additional committee term
Convention Attendance	3 Years = 5 Points 1 Point for each additional year

GET CERTIFIED

NAPMM Certification Program

CONFRENCES & REGIONAL MEETINGS

Each year NAPMM organizes an annual conference for the entire membership and a regional meeting alternating between a wholesale and a retail market focus which are hosted by our member markets from across the U.S. and Canada. The annual conferences and regional meetings include educational sessions and tours emphasizing such topics as new industry trends, crisis management, best practices related to facility and market management at wholesale and retail operations and highlighting new markets and those involved in major capital improvements. We also strive to keep our members up to date with the latest trends in the food industry and political initiatives and actions that affect farmers. NAPMM events are made possible through the support of our members, sponsors, and friends. Sponsorship is critical to help us host informative and successful events each year. We appreciate your consideration, and any level of support you can give!

USDA/AMS FARMERS MARKETS & LOCAL FOOD MARKETING

Local Food Research & Development

Farmers Markets and Direct-to-Consumer Marketing: conducts regular data collection and analysis of farmers market operations and other direct-to-consumer marketing outlets (Community Supported Agriculture, food hubs, on-farm markets) to help market managers, planners, and researchers better understand the impact of these outlets on food access and local economic development, and help the public easily find sources of fresh, local food.

Food Value Chains & Food Hubs: studies “food value chains”, an innovative business model in which agricultural producers, processors, buyers, and other supply chain members for collaborative, transparent partnerships that intentionally attempt to combine financial success with social benefit. “Food hubs”, a subset of these innovative enterprises, work to ramp up the availability of local food in wholesale marketing channels by offering affordable aggregation, distribution, and marketing services to small and mid-sized producers.

Wholesale Markets and Facility Design: provides targeted site assessment and design services for food market planners, managers, and community stakeholders to improve the efficiency of permanent food market facilities.

USDA Farmers Market: The Department’s own “living laboratory” for farmers market operations, the farmers market at USDA headquarters has been running strong for 23 years and counting on a seasonal basis, and currently operates throughout the year in both outdoor and indoor locations. Posted here are schedules of upcoming market days and special programs/events for USDA headquarters along with materials that provide transferable lessons about market management, layout and organizational self-assessment for use by farmers market stakeholders across the country.

AMS Grant Programs: AMS administers five grant programs to help farmers and ranchers market the food they produce, including programs that further farmers markets, specialty crops such as fruit and vegetables, local food marketing, and cost-share programs to help farmers become organic.

PACA

The Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act (PACA) was enacted at the request of the fruit and vegetable industry to promote fair trade in the industry. The PACA protects businesses dealing in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables by establishing and enforcing a code of fair business practices and by helping companies resolve business disputes.

The PACA Branch is responsible for administering the PACA and offers many services to the industry. PACA Branch experts receive hundreds of telephone calls each week from companies requesting assistance on problems unique to the industry such as interpretation of inspection certificates, advice on contract disputes, and bankruptcy payments.
